DARS' Proponents Suggested Formats.[from CD RAdio and Primosphere]

2.0 Services and Demand Forecast

Primosphere has determined that there is significant demand for satellite digital radio service.

2.1 Services to be Provided

Primosphere will broadcast 23 channels of near CD-quality musical programming and 6 channels of non-musical programming. The musical programming will include a variety of American heritage music as well as other types of music which do not receive much radio play time, particularly in smaller markets around the country. Primosphere intends to utilize nearly half of its channels on the satellite for contemporary, urban, rock, and country, with the other channels devoted to musical styles reflecting the richness of American heritage, such as Classic Soul, Classic Country, Roots Rock, Classic Jazz and Folk, Blues and Bluegrass. In addition, to address the large U.S. audiences for international and Spanish-language music, these formats also will be provided.

Classic Soul music is an example of the music formats which Primosphere will bring to the American public. Soul has long been an important element in U.S. culture. However, it is increasingly difficult to find stations willing to play it today. Most major markets are filled with "adult contemporary" stations that mix in classic 1960s soul with soft rock hits trying to reach the 25 to 40 year old audience, but their reliance on the same few hits leaves the classic soul fan wanting.¹

To demonstrate the wealth of music which will be featured on the Primosphere channels, Primosphere commissioned the development of detailed playlists for various formats, including Country, Soul, Jazz, Roots Rock and Folk, Bluegrass and Blues. These formats, along with essays discussing their importance to America, are included in Section II of this application. These were developed by experts in these musical fields and illustrate the breadth of music Primosphere will make available over-the-air. As John Morthland writes about country music, "the need for a national radio outlet is ... clear...[to] keep before the public a quintessential American music that is otherwise in danger of disappearing from our popular culture due to lack of exposure."²

Primosphere's programming philosophy will be driven by the desire to provide diverse, non-duplicative musical formats that serve all ages and ethnic groups. In addition to the five heritage formats discussed above, a sixth American heritage format, consisting of show tunes, cabaret and musical comedy, will be provided. The other 17 formats are:

Classic Rock: Led Zeppelin, Pink Floyd, Jimi Hendrix, Cream, Carole King, Doors and many lesser known but influential artists and "one-hit wonders."

Oldies: Four Seasons, Supremes, Creedence, Beatles, and many other lesser known and "one hit wonders."

Standards: Frank Sinatra, Nat King Cole, Barbra Streisand, Tommy Dorsey, Ella Fitzgerald, Peggy Lee.

International: Caribbean, African, Asian music including current international hits; some block programming for specific music.

Contemporary Hit Radio #1: Current hits, appealing mainly to younger demographics, including rap, hard rock and dance (Shanice, Toad the Wet Sprocket, Wreckx-n-Effect, House of Pain).

Contemporary Hit Radio #2: Current hits appealing mainly to older demographics, including adult contemporary (Kenny G, Sade, Michael Bolton, Alternative Rock: Current underexposed rock from out of the mainstream (Ned's Atomic Dustbin, Sunday's Sugar).

Black/Urban #1: Current black hits appealing mainly to younger demographics, including rap, hip-hop (Bobby Brown, Public Enemy, Black Sheep, Another Bad Creation).

Black/Urban #2: Current black music appealing mainly to older demographics, including "Quiet Storm," blues, contemporary jazz (Patti LaBelle, Etta James, Freddie Jackson, Groove Washington, George Duke, Anita Baker, Natalie Cole).

Country: Current country hits (Garth Brooks, Trisha Yearwood, Vince Gill).

Dance: Current dance/club hits, including dance mixes of rock, black and rap hits (Deee-Lite, Shabba Ranks).

Spanish-language Music: Current Mexican, salsa and Latin pop hits, block programming for different hispanic ethnic groups (Mazz, Eddie Palmieri, Jose Jose, Julio Iglesias).

Classical #1: Popular favorites.

Classical #2: Classical music, including opera, for the more serious fan.

Contemporary Jazz/New Adult Contemporary: Current jazz, including New Age (George Winston, David Sanborn, Larry Carlton, Rippingtons, Gary Burton, Manhattan Transfer, Bob James, Enya, Kitaro).

The six non-music channels to be provided will have the following formats: news/talk, sports, business, comedy, children's and audio reading for the hearing impaired.

The CD Radio Service

The Company intends to offer 30 channels of commercial-free, all-music programming and up to 20 additional channels of other formats that do not require compact-disc-quality fidelity, such as all-news, all-sports and all-talk programming. Each music channel will have a specific format, intended to cater to a finely segmented subscriber taste. It is anticipated that upon commencement of CD Radio the monthly subscription fee for CD Radio will be $10 or less.

CD Radio will offer the listener a number of advantages over the principal source of mobile audio entertainment — AM/FM broadcasting. CD Radio will offer (i) music channels that will each cater to a different, highly focused musical taste; (ii) commercial-free music programming; (iii) signal availability throughout the continental United States; and (iv) compact-disc-quality fidelity.

The Company's preliminary market research indicates that the principal complaint of commuters interviewed about radio was commercials. When in the car, many listeners attempt to avoid commercial interruptions by switching stations at the outset of a string of commercials. The amount of radio advertising varies with the time of day, station format and market size, but a broadcasting industry source indicates that, on average, every hour of music programming during morning and evening commutes is interrupted by 10 to 12 minutes of commercials.

In addition, only the largest urban areas are capable of supporting stations that offer a targeted selection of programming designed to appeal to highly focused listener tastes, and the signals of these and other conventional AM/FM radio stations are available only within a limited range. While AM/FM stations are currently incapable of broadcasting compact-disc-quality sound, the Company believes that AM/FM broadcasters may be in a position to begin digital transmission of their signals before the time the Company's service becomes operational. Digital broadcasting, however, will not affect conventional broadcasters' ability to address the other advantages of CD Radio, and will provide further incentive for replacement of existing AM/FM radios with digital radios.

Programming will be managed by the Company's staff, with guidance from on-going market research. The Company intends to recruit program managers from the recording, broadcasting and entertainment industries to manage the development of daily programming for each channel. Music programming will be produced from the Company's music library and will be sourced from compact discs. It is contemplated that this music library will initially consist of more than 500,000 individual musical compositions, representing a broad range of recorded music, and will be updated as new recordings are released.

In developing CD Radio, the Company will seek to establish mutually-beneficial relationships with recording companies. The Company believes that CD Radio represents an opportunity for the recording industry to expose, research and promote new releases and artists to targeted listener groups nationwide. The Company plans to solicit promotional copies of new recordings, and contemplates showcasing these releases as part of a service to be developed for record companies. The Company's philosophy is one of commitment to working with the recording industry and performing artists to develop programming of mutual benefit.

The Company does not view its service as directly competitive with compact discs or cassettes any more than conventional radio programming, which has traditionally provided listeners with certain advantages over recorded music. Radio programming is updated to include new music releases and provides spontaneity and freshness as a result of the listener not knowing what will be heard next. Radio also frees motorists from the inconvenience and distraction of having to change and store recorded music. Like conventional radio broadcasting, the Company's proposed service is not expected to be a substitute for a personal collection of recordings. There are times when a listener wants to hear specific songs, and at such times, a listener will turn to his or her own collection of recorded music sources. Recorded music represents a complement to conventional radio and does not compete directly with conventional radio service.

The following list of music channels and descriptions has been prepared by the Company as an example of the types of narrowcast programming that could be offered by CD Radio. The Company intends to vary channel formats from time-to-time to reflect changing subscriber tastes.
